PORT ARTHUR NEWS IS CONFLICTING

The Russians Claim Little Reliable News is Received.

Tokio Dispatches Still Mention the "Final Assault"—General Kuropatkin to Move.

ACTIVITY IS TO BE RENEWED

Tokio, Aug. 25.—The belief is general here that the assault on Port Arthur is imminent and the announcement of its capture may be expected almost any moment.

TO DISCUSS MOLESTATION.
London, Aug. 25.—Premier Balfour will receive a deputation from the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon which will discuss with the Premier the molestation of British shipping by Russian warships.

THANKS FROM THE CZAR.
Shanghai, Aug. 25.—The czar has telegraphed the crews of the Askold and Grosover, congratulating them upon saving their vessels in the recent encounter with Japanese warships.

RUSSIAN LINES WEAKENING.

Tokio, Aug. 25.—The final assault on Port Arthur is imminent. Hundreds of Japanese guns continue to pour a destructive fire into the city and harbor, along the lines of forts and entrenchments preparatory to the infantry assault. It is evident that the Russian lines have been weakened and partly penetrated in the vicinity of Auteshan and Itseshan forts. The entire line of Russian defenses immediately about the harbor are within range of the Japanese guns. A number of Russian forts and batteries continue to be vigorous. The Japanese death roll will be heavily increased before they are captured.

The direction of the Japanese attack creates the impression here that the city and defenses on either side of the harbor entrance will fall first. The final stand will be made at Liao Tishan.

Japanese official channels of information remain closed, and the Navy Department announcement of the striking of a mine by the battleship Sebastopol and the firing upon the Russian forts by the cruisers Nissin and Kasagi yesterday are the only disclosures made for several days. It is believed here that both sides have suffered heavy losses, and that the final record will make the siege the bloodiest since Sedan. The Japanese are supremely confident of the ultimate result. The leaders of the Government await the outcome in calm assurance. The people are everywhere decorating streets and houses and erecting arches and flag staffs in preparation for a national celebration of the expected victory.

ONE DESTROYER SANK.
Tokio, Aug. 25.—The Russians suffered additional naval losses last evening when two torpedo-boat destroyers encountered mines outside Port Arthur. One was sunk and the other limped back into the harbor. The fate of the crew of the sunken vessel was not learned.

SILENCED RUSSIAN GUNS.
Tokio, Aug. 25.—Admiral Kataoga, commander of the third Japanese squadron, in a report just received at the war office, states that the Japanese cruisers Nissin and Kasagi, yesterday discovered the Russians shelling the Japanese land forces from a position near Lung Tsin Tse, in a short time silencing the Russian guns.

STOPPED ENGLISH VESSEL.
London, Aug. 25.—Captain Shanklin of the steamer Asia, reports that his vessel was detained two hours when sixty miles east of Cape St. Vincent, by the Russian cruiser, Ural. After her papers and cargo had been examined by the Russians, the Asia was permitted to proceed.

REPORTS FROM PORT ARTHUR.
St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—So far as can be ascertained no further news of the progress of the fighting before the beleaguered fortress has been received, except that contained in reports from foreign sources. These latter are conflicting, some of them representing that the Japanese assaults have become exhausted, and others claiming that the Japanese have captured Etseshan Fort, belonging to the western defenses. If this position has been taken and occupied, it is realized that unless the Japanese are

St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—The newspaper Russ will tomorrow publish officially the inspect of an article to the effect that Russia will refuse to accept mediation in the war with Japan under any circumstances.

KUROPATKIN READY.
St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—A telegram from General Kuropatkin commander of the Russian forces in Manchuria, dated Liao Yany, states that he is now ready to begin an offensive movement against the Japanese forces.

COALED OFF GERMAN VESSEL.
London, Aug. 25.—Two British cruisers, at the request of Russia have been sent in search of the Russian volunteer cruisers Smolensk and Petersburg, to tell the commanders not to interfere with shipping.

NO SALE TODAY

POSTPONEMENT ORDERED IN LEIGH FRUIT AND STORAGE CO.

The sale of the Leigh Fruit and Storage Co. property was not made today, but was held until Saturday. The referee Attorney E. W. Bagby fixed today for the sale, and if no objections were offered to the sale would have instructed the trustee to sell, but when the time came for hearing to objections the bankrupts claimed certain exemptions and until this matter is settled the sale could not be ordered.

Referee Bagby gave the attorneys until Saturday to settle the matter and on Saturday the sale will be held. Several other matters were acted on in this case. Attorneys Wheeler, Hughes, and Berry were allowed a fee of $250 for their services in the case. The Globe Bank and Trust Co., was allowed a fee of $100 for acting as assignee. Advance expenses of the petitioners were ordered refunded by the referee. These expenses are light, amounting to not more than $50.

CAPTAIN KILLED

IN AMBUSH ATTACK ON SOLDIERS.

at once dislodged the chain of fortresses will be breached and the position of Port Arthur rendered critical. The report, however, is considered as requiring confirmation.

The simple fact that the day to which a large portion of the public looked forward with superstitious dread passed without the fall of the fortress, suddenly encouraged the popular hope that the christening of the Czarevitch will mark a turn in the tide.

Reports that Gen. Kuropatkin is about to make an important move continue to be circulated, but the character of the move is not hinted at.

Since his retirement from Simouching and the Yangtze Pass, it is estimated that more than 35,000 reinforcements have reached Gen. Kuropatkin.

Nothing has been received from Russian sources confirming the report that the battleship Sevastopol struck a mine outside Port Arthur.

RUSSIA TO BECOME AGGRESSIVE.

Rome, Aug. 25.—A Dispatch from Mukden says the Trans-Siberian railway is working and badly incessant rains are causing bad washouts. The dispatch also says that General Kuropatkin has 18,500 men who will take the offensive against the Japanese as soon as the one hundred and twenty guns, now en route, arrive.

SERIOUS QUESTION ABOUT EXTENSION

Chinese Foreign Office Seems to Have Created Complications

Four Days Over the Limit In Which to Make Repairs on The Russian Ships.

THE POWERS ARE INTERESTED

Shanghai, August 25.—In view of the fact that the Chinese ministry of Foreign affairs has given to the Russian warships now here 'four more days in which to make repairs, the situation is believed to have become more serious.

Washington, August 25.—The state department has been advised that the Wai Wu Pu, the Chinese foreign office, has extended the time for repairs on the Russian ships in Shanghai to noon of August 28.

Paris, August 25.—A dispatch to the Temps from St. Petersburg says the Askold, the Grozovoi and the Diana will be disarmed if Japan will give the powers a specific promise not to attempt thereafter to seize them.

Paris, August 25.—There is reason to believe that a decision is about to take effect providing for the voluntary disarmament of the cruiser Askold and torpedo boat destroyer Grozovoi now at Shanghai and the Russian cruiser Diana at Saigon.

Advices received here from Saigon show, contrary to previous announcements, that the Diana is in a very bad condition. She has one large hole in her hull below the water line. Her injuries will take weeks to repair. This would have permitted an extension of her sojourn in a neutral port beyond the twenty-four hours which expired yesterday, but it is foreseen that the repairs would entail such a stay at Saigon that it is possible that questions affecting the neutrality of the port would be likely to arise and, therefore, Russia is disposed to disarm the Diana, which thereafter will remain at Saigon during the war.

The final determination in the matter has not yet been taken, but the tendencies are strongly as indicated.

WILL DISMANTLE.

Washington, August 25.—Consul General Goodnow cables the state department that the Russian consul general at Shanghai has notified the Taotia that the Askold and Grozovoi will dismantle at once.

WRIT OF DELIVERY

AN INTERESTING MULE CASE COMES UP TODAY.

Justice Jesse Young will this afternoon try a writ of delivery for a mule, brought by L. B. Page against G. W. Robertson, the ice man, in which a prisoner from Bardwell was brought here as a star witness.

The prisoner, Burkett, by name, is charged with stealing a mule, which is alleged to have been sold by him to Mr. George Robertson of Paducah, who bought it in good faith. Page claims to own the mule and took out the writ of delivery in Justice Young's court to secure it. He had Burkett brought here to swear that he sold the mule to Mr. Robertson.

Burkett has not been tried. Marshall Moss brought Burkett here this morning and the attorneys will likely introduce a great deal of evidence.

Attorney A. L. Harper represents the plaintiff and Bagby and Martin the defendant.

PADUCAH COMPANY TO BE REORGANIZED

Adjutant General Coming Here in a Short Time.

News From Frankfort Today Is That the Paducah Boys Will Not Go to St. Louis.

FIRST TROOPS LEAVE SEPT. 1

The first definite news of the Paducah military company was received by the Sun this morning from Frankfort, and is as follows:

Frankfort, Ky., August 25.—Owing to the disorganized condition of the Paducah military company, the adjutant general says he will not be able to send them to the St. Louis encampment. He hopes, however, to visit Paducah shortly and reorganize the company along new lines.

The other military companies begin leaving in a few days, and the three regiments of the Kentucky State Guard will be encamped on the grounds of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition for the purpose of instruction during the month of September.

The camp will be opened on September 1 and close on the 29th inst. Adjutant General Percy Haly will be in active command of the troops, who will be ordered into camp one regiment at a time. Each regiment will remain in camp nine days.

An executive order from the Governor to the adjutant general, issued yesterday directs that the Third regiment be taken first to the camp. The companies composing the regiment will leave Louisville and Western Kentucky points on the night of Thursday, September 1, arriving in camp the following morning. They will continue there until the evening of September 9, when they will return to Kentucky. The companies of the Second regiment will leave Louisville on the evening of September 11, arriving at St. Louis the next morning, and continuing in camp until the afternoon of September 19.

The First regiment and batteries will leave Louisville on the evening of September 21, and remain in camp until it breaks up, on September 29.

Orders in detail will be issued from the office of the adjutant general immediately, providing information to company commanders as to the movement of the troops under them, the lines of railroad to transport them from their respective homes to Louisville and to St. Louis, and other necessary information.

HIS SON'S HEAD

CHICAGO POLICEMAN MAKES A GHASTLY DISCOVERY.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 26.—A man about 22 years of age was killed by a train at 10th street and a patrol wagon in charge of Police Sergeant Patrick Reilly was sent to convey the remains to the morgue. The body was literally cut in pieces and the police were forced to gather it up bit by bit. For some time the head could not be found, but finally it was picked up by Sergeant Reilly, who on bringing it to the light, found it was the head of his own son, Patrick J. Reilly.

St. Louis, Aug. 26.—A man supposed to be Frank McCormick, of Mountierie, Illinois, leaped from the Eads bridge into the river this morning after drinking a quantity of poison and was drowned.

INSPECTOR HERE.

Postoffice Inspector S. A. Susong, of Cincinnati, is in the city today. He is at work on special business in this section, and will likely be in and out of Paducah for a day or two.

Burton, Texas.—After witnessing the burial of her uncle, Mrs. Alberta Boenmarin hanged herself with a towel.

THE PLANS WERE ADOPTED BY BOARD

WAREHOUSE FOR MARKET

Contractor Robertson to Begin Work Monday—Bitulithic Factory May Be Established Here.

WAREHOUSE FOR MARKET

COULD NOT BE WARNED

V. Fondaw, who is supposed to have lived at Bardwell, but was employed at East Cairo on the M. & O. section, was killed in sight of the crew on the Cairo and Paducah I. C. local freight yesterday afternoon about 2:40 o'clock, but the accident happened so quick that no one was able to render assistance or warn the man of his danger.

Fondaw was working by the track and heard the I. C. train pull up at the turnover. The M. & O. fast passenger was coming along about 40 miles an hour and the noise of the I. C. train probably caused the section man not to hear the approaching M. & O. train, to which he had his back turned.

The board last night received a communication from the Warren & Warren Co., of New York, manufacturers of the bitulithic compound, stating that in enough work was contracted for, the company would put up a plant here for the manufacture of bitulithic compound, which would be a good thing for Paducah.

The improvements to be made on the streets will be either brick paving or the bitulithic compound, and if the latter is most favorable will mean the establishment of a big plant here, which will remain permanently. If not enough work is secured to justify such a plant, the compound will be made elsewhere, probably Nashville, and shipped here. The communication was filed.

The board ordered an ordinance drawn up at once providing for either paving or the bitulithic compound, and if the latter is most favorable will mean the establishment of a big plant here, which will remain permanently. If not enough work is secured to justify such a plant, the compound will be made elsewhere, probably Nashville, and shipped here. The communication was filed.

The board also ordered the street roller to work on Washington street.

One of the most important actions taken was the rental of the Western District warehouse at Jefferson and Second streets, for a temporary market house. The building will be rented as soon as the contract for the building of the market house will be signed and the contractor ready to go to work. It is expected the market house will be finished within three months' time.

The board decided to ask residents of the West End to bring in a petition for paving streets and curbing, when they are built, the bad drainage will be remedied.

City Engineer Washington was instructed to make plans and specifications for the improvement of Market street at once. The grade will have to be lowered considerably, probably a foot or more. He will go to work today and get the plans ready by the time the ordinance is passed by the council.

FIRE AT JACKSON

MORNING BLAZE CAUSES LOSS OF BETWEEN $15,000 AND $20,000.

Jackson, Tenn., Aug. 25.—Fire practically consumed the building and contents at the corner of Lafayette and Shannon streets, and occupied by Doone Bros., dealers in buggies, wagons and farming implements. They estimate the loss on their stock at $15,000, on which they had $10,000 insurance. The building was a two-story brick and was the property of Mrs. Nelson and was insured for $1,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Mosby W. White & Co., cotton buyers, had offices in the rear of the building, and sustained a loss of $300 and had no insurance. Mid-Joiner's blacksmith shop on the west of the burned building, was also slightly damaged.

Evansville, Ind.—Rev. A. M. Hawkins of Anderson, Ind., has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Central Christian church of Evansville.

Much of the experience a man gets comes too late to benefit him.

While Gus Bonno and Clyde Goodwin, star twirlers in the Kitty League, battled for supremacy at Wallace Park yesterday afternoon, both the Indians and Hoosiers played like school boys behind them each team seemingly trying to see which could make the most errors. The grand stand was well filled, the fans realizing a pitchers' battle was brewing, and every stage of the game was exciting.

Bonno clearly demonstrated his superiority, allowing but three hits, one scratch hit until the ninth inning when two accidental hits and two errors made it possible for the Hoosiers to avoid the humiliation of a shut-out with their star twirler in the box.

The way the trick was turned is a long story but can be summed up in one word "ERRORS." Here is the way the tide was turned:

In the last of the second inning Potts hit a waist ball to Gwyn and retired to the timbers. Land stood pat after three bad ones had been delivered and swatted a hard grass clipper to right field, making first sack. Goodwin doubled up to turn loose speed and threw wild, Land going to second. Lemon did not field the ball quick enough and the Big Man went to third. Harley bunted down to first base and Lemon tried to throw him out but made a botch, Wilkerson barely stopping the sphere as she sailed two feet out of line. Land came in home making the first run. Powers and Brabie tried hard at three swift benders and retired the side.

In the third inning two more scores were netted. Bonno hit to Bierkorte, who fumbled. Bateman sacrificed to pitcher and Gerard failed at three high ones. Lally waited for four wide shots and got him plum, later stealing second. Potts swung well at a low drop ball and met it hard in the face. The leather sphere went hard at Bierkorte whose anxiety to field the runner out caused a bad fumble, both Bonno and Lally scoring. Potts got to second on the error and stole third sack. Land failed at three and retired the stickers.

The fifth inning brought forth three more scores. Bateman flew out to Gwyn and Gerard grounded out from O'Leary to Wilkerson. Lally got his base on balls again and Potts hit a high one to Taylor who let it drop. Land came to the plate with blood in his eye. He swung true and hit a hard one to little Bierkorte who made a bad miss, letting in two runs. Harley also hit to the second baseman and another fumble was scored along with a run. Powers lined out a nice single to right field. Bateman, who was running the sacks for Harley, tried to make third on the hit but was thrown out, retiring the side.

In the sixth inning still another run was made. Brabie flew out to O'Leary and Bonno got his base on balls. Bateman slugged a safe bounder to right field and Gerard struck out. Lally knocked a high infield ball to pitcher but Goodwin thought Lemon was going to take it. Wilkerson ran off first to take the ball but let it get away from him, Lally making second base and one run coming in.

In the seventh inning Land singled to the infield, hunting to the ground and running it out. Harley got a walk and Bateman took his place. Land stole second prior to this and went to third on a passed ball, later scoring on a wild pitch. Powers hit to O'Leary who threw Bateman out at home. Brabie struck out and Bonno flew out to Bierkorte.

The Hoosiers had all this time gotten goose eggs until the ninth when Taylor hit safe to center field. Wilkerson struck out and Gwyn hit to Bateman who crossed second cutting of Taylor. Bateman tried to throw Gwyn out at first but missed his mark. Kolb hit to Bonno who threw to Harley, Harley mulling the throw. Bierkorte hit safe to right field and Brabie let it get past him, both runners scoring. Goodwin hit to Bateman and was retired at first.

BONNO IS NOW "THE STAR."

Gus Bonno, the Indians' star twirler, clearly and coolly outpitched Clyde Goodwin at Wallace Park yesterday afternoon. The game was loosely played, however, but this had no direct bearing on the work of the pitchers. By way of comparison the following will show just how Bonno outclassed his rival. Bonno yielded but three hits while Goodwin yielded five. Bonno gave two bases on balls and Goodwin five. Goodwin made three wild pitches and Bonno none. Goodwin went up in the air slightly once or twice and Bonno stood pat, refusing to be rattled in the east, not even when the game was lost as far as a shut out was concerned in the last inning.

Bonno, if Goodwin is the best pitcher in the league, has deservedly taken the title.

Goodwin says he is out of shape but he worked to no greater disadvantage than Bonno who caught cold in his arm last Sunday and has not recovered. Bonno is saving up for the Cairo series. He will open the Egyptians' eyes.

A LITTLE BALL DOPE.

It ought to have been a shut out.

Big Taylor has the sympathy of the fans, for he wants to play ball, and is big enough to play ball, but "josephina" can't.

Bonno pitched all around Whirlwind Goodwin yesterday.

It may have taken six policemen to separate Catcher Lemon and Tommy Smith, but it didn't take much yesterday to separate him from Goodwin's slants. He had three passed balls.

Yesterday's game was announced as a "pitchers' battle," and that's

"If the cares of life beset you, or fret you, we'll bet you a Sun want ad

will get you—an artic-

about all it was. Nobody else did any playing to amount to anything.

And they called it a ball game.

There continue to be a lot of fans and several ball players who persist in knowing better than the umpire.

The gent out in center field robbed Potts of a fine hit yesterday.

Goodwin got a good deal of "raging" yesterday about the near hot's that swatted him over the eye in the free-for-all with Cairo.

Freeman is back in the game.

Harley is just as good looking as ever, if his nose was broken.

One of the finest throws ever seen on the diamond was made yesterday by Land when Kolb stood on first base while Land went to the grand stand after a foul fly. Land squeezed the sphere and as he turned saw Kolb making for the second sack. He threw the ball straight to Bateman who caught Kolb ten feet off the base. The play was remarkable.

We have worn out our standing headline "Cairo Won Again," and had a new one cast, "Cairo, of Course." We expect this to last until the Paducah-Cairo series.

The Milwaukee Journal comes to bat with the following production: "I see from the score," said Lee Tannahill of the White Sox as he laced up his spiced shoes, "that Vincennes, where old Alice came from—is that right?—has a catcher named Lemon Fine. There is less yellow in his complexion than his name would indicate, and his language to the umpire is of an acid flavor. Salaries are very small down there, and I would not be surprised if Lemon were a bit seedy, especially if he has been squeezed by any fines. Still he may get into faster company—if a manager will give Lemon-aid."

Wait until the Cairo slugs go up against Bonno and his speed. The Vincennes boys say the Italian is about as good as they make 'em.

Harley was a little nervous on account of his nose yesterday. He will be steadier today. Harley plays an excellent first base.

Tomorrow is ladies' day again.

Kubitz and Downing for Henderson, Brabie and Land for Paducah will be the battery for today's game.

The big man says he feels more at home behind the bat and is well satisfied to catch the remainder of the season out. This is too shaky a stage of the game to allow anyone but Land to work behind the bat.

Bonno is made of the right stuff. Last night some stranger who had won on Paducah, handed the Italian twirler $2. Bonno called all the team into a soda water dispensary and "set 'em up".

FEUD BETWEEN CABS AND AUTOS

Coachers, vexed at loss of trade, wandered about the drives to harass chauffeurs.

Paris.—In connection with the search question, one prominent automobile manufacturer called attention to the fact that cab drivers are just as dangerous as automobiles. The coach is allowed to wander up and down and across the drives, marauding with no regard for the laws. The cabman takes delight in annoying automobile drivers because they hurt his trade. Trouville, where all kinds of activity is now at its height, is becoming dangerous for pedestrians because of the automobiles that are constantly dashing up and down the fine avenues.

COLORED WOMAN'S DEATH.

Dora Davis, colored, aged 36, died suddenly last night from pulmonary apoplexy, at her home in Rowlandtown. She was taken suddenly and violently ill, and a physician was summoned. She died a few minutes after he reached her.

COSTLY FUNYOUNG PEOPLE FINED FOR ALLEGED CHARIVARI

Watson Hannish, Robert Cates, Bertie Cops, Addie Hannah, Hopie Hannish, Ira Matthews, James Graham, Willie Holland and Clyde Matthews were tried before Justice Jesse Young yesterday afternoon on a disorderly conduct charge. They all reside on the North Side, and it was alleged when Mr. Green Lee and Miss Ollie Cates married Tuesday night, a party of young people undertook to charivari them. William Cates, owner of the property, claimed they threw rocks and otherwise abused his property and swore out warrants, and the above were fined $5 and costs, the total for each amounting to $14.05.

A CONTINUAL STRAIN.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." NOT ENOUGH YET.

Lawyer Jesse Moss who is collecting initiation fees from those who desire to be charter members of the Fagles, now being organized here, has become disgusted with the way matters have been going and if the necessary amount of money for the installation is not secured this week will give up the work and return the money collected. It requires about fifty initiation fees to make up the necessary amount and only thirty have paid in.

FARNBAKER SAYS HE IS SECRETARY

President Thompson Says the Cairo Man is "Removed."

Farnbaker Positively Denies That He Will Resign—Thompson Says W. H. Hancock Is Secretary.

THE WAR IS ON IN EARNEST

Maurice J. Farnbaker, of Cairo, secretary of the K. I. T. league, whose position seems to be in dispute, has settled the matter by speaking for himself, and it matters naught what the others say, Mr. Farnbaker is still secretary as he holds the league funds and records.

The secretary deems it best to officially announce his position, which is concisely done in the following dispatch received by the Sun:

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 24, 1904.
Sun, Paducah, Ky.

There is positively no truth in the report that I have or will resign the secretaryship of the league. I will continue to fill the office until the fall meeting as the constitution provides, in city winning the championship, which will be held the fourth Sunday in September.

(Signed)

M. J. FARNBAKER,
Secretary.

This will be good news for the fans. Secretary Farnbaker is a most capable secretary, and knows more about baseball and doubtless does more for the league than all the others put together. The Kitty league owes two successful seasons to his hard work. Whatever Secretary Farnbaker says, or whatever position he takes, it is expected that nearly 2,500 union men will be in line.

The dancing pavilion will be in charge of Mr. George Bondurant, of the Cigarmakers, with Mr. W. C. Schofield, of the Blacksmiths' union attached.

Nearly all local unions have selected uniforms for the parade, and it is expected that nearly 2,500 union men will be in line.

The list of the contests of the day is as follows:

LARGEST CROWD IN CITY'S HISTORY

Preparations Still Being Made for Labor Day.

Two Candidates Thus Far For Goddess of Labor—Various Contests to Be Enjoyed.

MANY VISITORS ARE EXPECTED

Labor Day is drawing near and the advertising agents are working the city and surrounding counties thoroughly.

The boats running on all rivers carry streamers and cloth signs advertising the celebrations and the promoters of the celebration expect to have the largest crowd here on Labor Day ever assembled in Paducah on that anniversary.

So far only two candidates for Goddess of Labor have been nominated. They are Misses Allie Crandall, by the Carpenters and Joiners' union, and Miss Gertie Walker, by the Ship Caulkers.

Committees are working to have an old country store at Wallace Park. As soon as arrangements of all local unions are made to join the parade Grand Marshal Charles Hart will map out the line of march and decide the location of each union in the procession.

Arrangements are being made to have some well known public men and members of organized labor to address the crowds at the park. Nearly all local unions have selected uniforms for the parade, and it is expected that nearly 2,500 union men will be in line.

The dancing pavilion will be in charge of Mr. George Bondurant, of the Cigarmakers, with Mr. W. C. Schofield, of the Blacksmiths' union attached.

The list of the contests of the day is as follows:

1. Pole Climbing Contest—To climb to the top of a telephone pole and down; walk to the next pole, climb up and descend in the shortest time.

2. Three-legged Race—Run 50 yards with right and left leg of couple tied together.

3. Spoon and Egg Race—Run 50 yards with egg in a spoon and arm extended, without dropping egg before reaching the mark. First to reach mark gets prize.

4. Sack Race—Run 100 feet with both feet tied up in a sack.

5. Potato Race—Potatoes placed in rows three feet apart and about 20 feet in length. Pick up all potatoes in a row, one at a time carry to basket at starting point. The one picking up a whole row first wins the prize.

6. Married Couple Race—Running with joined hands 100 yards.

7. Plain Running Race—One hundred yards.

8. Blindfold Race with Wheelbarrow—To run the nearest to a post with wheelbarrow while hood-winked. Start 75 feet from post.

9. The Best Lady Waltzer—Prize to be awarded in the evening.

10. Goddess of Labor Contest—The candidate receiving the most votes up to 9 p. m. will be elected. Prize $25 gold watch.

Prizes for the first nine contests will be selected later and published in the Sun.

Arrangements have been completed for the barbecue, and plenty of meat will be ready for all.

Watch these columns for authentic reports of labor day arrangements.

APOPLEXY KILLS BANKER LEONARD

Sudden Death of a Prominent Former Paducah.

He Dropped Dead From His Chair at Eddyville Late Yesterday Afternoon.

HE WAS A PROMINENT MAN

Mr. S. N. Leonard, the well known Eddyville banker died suddenly yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock at his home in Lyon county from apoplexy. He had been in good health except for a slight indisposition, and a doctor called had just placed a thermometer in the patient's mouth to take his temperature when suddenly he pitched forward from his chair and breathed his last.

Mr. Leonard yesterday afternoon went to town to transact some business and see his son Otto, and had come back on account of feeling bad. He asked that a physician be sent for and when the physician arrived and attempted to ascertain whether or not the patient had fever the latter had the fatal stroke.

Mr. Leonard was a former resident of Paducah and one of the best known men in Southwest Kentucky. He was a highly educated man, and had for many years made Lyon county his home. He was born in North Carolina and was 60 years old, his early manhood being spent in Paducah. His first wife was a Miss Brazell and his second a Miss Long. His children are: Mrs. J. Wheeler Campbell, Paducah; Mrs. Cabanne, St. Louis; Miss Sallie Leonard, New York; Tom Leonard, St. Louis; and Otto Leonard, Eddyville. He has a sister in Saratoga, N. Y.

Mr. Leonard was president of the Farmers' Bank in Eddyville, and of the Suwanee Spoke and Lumber company. At one time he was quite a wealthy man, but is said to have lost his fortune in recent years.

Colonel Leonard was quite a literary man in his younger days, and was for a time associate editor of the Paducah Herald. He was always a popular man and one of prominence, and was a brother to the late Tom Leonard, of Paducah, for many years a resident of North Seventh street.

The funeral of Mr. Leonard will be sometime tomorrow afternoon. The hour not having been set. The deceased was a Mason and the burial will be under their auspices.

FELL INTO RIVER

NEGRO SCAVENGER HAS CLOSE CALL AT GARBAGE DUMP.

This morning a negro scavenger fell into the Ohio river at the foot of Clay street where the garbage dump is located, but saved himself from drowning by clutching the sides of the dump and gaining the bank.

The negro was struggling with barrels of garbage when one got away from him, and in attempting to keep it from going into the river, he fell in himself. The accident was seen by Mr. Joe Wagner who hastened to the negro's aid, but the scavenger had gained the bank before Mr. Wagner reached him. His name was not learned.

A petition has been mailed to the president asking him to intervene in behalf of the men deported from Cripple Creek last Saturday.

THERE ARE NOW SIX AGAINST THE CHATTANOOGA WITH MORE COMING.

Today two additional libels were filed against the steamer Chattanooga, now at the ways here.

The Jackson Foundry and Machine company's claims amount to $122.60.

The St. Bernard Coal company's amount to $142.

There are now six libels against the boat, and others are to follow in a short time, it is understood.

September 5 has been appointed as the time for creditors to present their claims for hearing, and show reason why the boat should be sold for debt. The order is issued by United States Marshal George W. Saunders, by the direction of United States Marshal A. D. James, of the Western District of Kentucky.

PADUCAH MAN HAS NOT BEEN INDICTED AT METROPOLIS.

Judge James Campbell left this morning for Metropolis, Ill., to attend court and represent J. C. DeMert, of Paducah, who was arrested here several weeks ago on a warrant charging bigamy. Judge Campbell does not believe that there is anything in the case, and thinks the grand jury will fail to indict. It is said the brother of the woman alleged to have been De Mert's first wife swore out the warrant, thinking De Mert was married to his sister, when De Mert claims he was not.

JUDGE PARKER AND THE TRUSTS.

On Tuesday, August 9, the New York Times, which is a zealous supporter of Parker and Davis, came out in an editorial in favor of the nomination of Daniel S. Lamont as the Democratic candidate for governor of New York, saying "his nomination would be the strongest the party could make." On the same day it published the following information in its news columns:

It was learned last night that James J. Hill, of St. Paul, the President of the Great Northern railroad, is especially anxious to see Mr. Lamont nominated. Mr. Lamont is the vice president of the Northern Pacific road. Both roads were parties to the Northern Securities merger, which President Roosevelt and his Attorney General successfully combated in the courts. Mr. Hill is especially bitter against President Roosevelt, and has espoused the Parker and Davis cause. Mr. Hill, however, as a preliminary to making his campaign contribution, which is one of the largest in the country, is understood to be insisting that he be assured that New York state is at least likely to go to the Democratic ticket.

It is said that Mr. Hill believes that Mr. Lamont can carry the state of New York and can materially aid the election of the electoral ticket. For this reason, there is good reason to believe that Mr. Hill's contribution to the National campaign fund would be several hundreds or thousands of dollars more if Mr. Lamont is named for governor than if the nomination goes to another. Moreover, it is said that Mr. Hill would contribute materially to the campaign in New York state if his friend Lamont, who also is an intimate business associate, should be running.

From a National Committee source the belief was expressed last night that Mr. Hill would contribute fully $400,000 to the national campaign and $400,000 to the New York state campaign if Mr. Lamont is named, and that his donations might reach twice that sum if the indications continued to point to party success and it could be shown where further contributions on his part would aid in the canvass.

A day later, August 10, in explaining this publication, it said that it had been obtained from a member of the Democratic National Committee. This would seem to establish its authenticity. At least it shows the attitude of James J. Hill and the other trust magnates whose business President Roosevelt broke up with his merger suit. It shows that they are preparing to give money to the Democratic campaign fund with the expectation that Parker, if elected, will be friendly to them.

Lamont, it should be remembered, was Cleveland's private secretary and subsequently his secretary of war. When he retired from public life with Cleveland he went into Wall Street with the Whitney-Ryan-Flower crowd, and subsequently into the Hill Trust combination and became a millionaire several times over. The Times' revelation about him destroyed his usefulness as a candidate, but it showed unmistakably what is going on in the Democratic campaign. The baffled and enraged trusts are behind Parker and are preparing to pour out money to elect him. Parker says in his speech of acceptance that he thinks the common law is ample to keep the trusts within bounds, that no other law is necessary. Under the common law the merger suit could not have been brought.

Events tend to show more and more every day that President Roosevelt will receive the largest plurality ever given a candidate for president. Senator Lodge, a splendid authority, says: "Republicans throughout the country are presenting a solid front for the President. I do not find anywhere a single Republican who is expecting to support and vote for Judge Parker. Some gold Democrats who voted for McKinley in 1896 and 1900 have returned to their party. They, of course, will support Judge Parker. On the contrary, I know many Democrats who will support Mr. Roosevelt. He will get a large personal vote, for the President is the kind of man who appeals strongly to every American. Among first voters and among young men generally he will poll a tremendous vote. I feel entirely confident of the general result."

There is a great deal in the following from the Ashland Independent upon the question of good roads: "The advantages of good roads was never better exemplified than last winter, when wheat was a dollar a bushel. Farmers who were able to get good roads soon had their product in town and received the high price. Those who could not haul the golden grain in at the time had to hold it until the roads were good. The loss was about seven cents a bushel, quite an item in the marketing of a crop or even a few wagonloads."

Why not sweep the cross streets centrally paved, as well as Broadway? They are allowed to become very dirty, and there is no excuse for it, for a few hours with the sweeper would do the work.

Congressman Ollie James is up east telling the guileless interviewers what Kentucky is going to do this fall, when he doesn't know what his own district is going to do.

Every table of statistics showing the growth of trade and manufactures under Republican rule speaks prosperity for the people and disappointment to Democratic hopes.

It must seem a little awkward for the Democrats to ask for power, not on their own record, but on the strength of the Republican party's record.

HORSE STEALING

Charge Lodged Today Against John Gainor, Colored.

Took Mr. John Rogers Horse and Drove It Five Miles.

Patrolmen Potter and Gourieux last night arrested John Gainor, colored, and swore out a warrant against him for horse stealing, and later another charge of house breaking will probably be preferred.

Some one broke into the stable of Mr. John Rogers, at Twelfth and Broadway last night and stole a horse and buggy. The police were notified and Officers Gourieux and Potter detailed to investigate. They learned Gainor was seen driving rather rapidly out Broadway and late last night laid for the negro, catching him riding to town in the rig, which he explained he had simply "borrowed."

He was taken to the city hall and locked up until this morning when he was removed to the county jail. Gainor had driven to Pleasant Grove, five miles out on the Broadway road. He broke a board nailed across the stable door, to get in, making himself guilty of housebreaking. Gainor has been in trouble before.

Attorney General Says Policies are Subject to Taxation.

The Assessor Should List Them at Their Cash Surrender Value, He Says.

THE COURTS WILL SETTLE IT

Frankfort, Ky., August 25.—Attorney General Hays, in an opinion delivered to Auditor Hager, holds that all policies of life insurance are property within the meaning of the constitution and statutes, and are subject to taxation in the hands of holders, at their cash surrender value.

The opinion of the attorney general was asked by Insurance Commissioner Prewitt and Bisbee Hindman, of Louisville, State Agent for the Mutual Life Company of New York, upon the making of an effort by the tax collector of Paintsville, Johnson county, to assess for taxation two policies of insurance, one paying annual dividends and the other paid up, but not paying dividends.

The question will, of course go into the courts for final decision despite the ruling of the attorney general.

THE THIRTIETH

German Evangelical Church to Celebrate Anniversary.

Will Hear Two Fine Sermons By a Former Pastor.

Next Sunday, August 28, the thirtieth anniversary of the German Evangelical church will be celebrated. Rev. J. E. Digel, who was pastor of the congregation for many years will preach at both morning and evening services. Rev. Digel is now situated at Massillon, Ohio, and is president of the Ohio District of the Evangelical Synod.

This congregation is one of the oldest in the city. The church was originally located on South Third street, where the Union Rescue Mission is now situated. The handsome building now occupied by the German Evangelical congregation was built about 15 years ago.

The building in which the mission is now situated, has an interesting history. It was originally a theater, in the earlier days of Paducah, was bought by the German Evangelical congregation for a church. After it was abandoned for this purpose it was again used as a theater, and is now again a church.

The present German Evangelical church is a pretty little structure which cost about $7,000, and its congregation is now very flourishing. Rev. William Bourquin is the present pastor.

A. Yeiser, Z. H. Bryant, James Collins, Frank Smedley and A. M. Derrington. The burial will be at Oak Grove.

ABILENA

AbilenA is natural water. It holds in solution salts dissolved from natural deposits in the earth. It is Nature's cathartic compound—a natural mineral water. Mineral waters are recognized everywhere as the most efficient, as well as the least in jurious, cathartics. AbilenA is the best mineral water on the American market. It is The American Natural Cathartic. The discovery of AbilenA was a simple revelation of nature. For a long time after the first well was dug, the water, being unfit for domestic purposes, was not used at all. Practical tests afterward disclosed its medicinal properties and the report of its virtue was rapidly disseminated. Finally several chemists analyzed the water and the results manifested its great therapeutic value and precluded its future renown. Sold only by

POLICE COURT

A Former Colored Preacher Held for House Breaking.

He Made a Novel Defense—Henderson Boys Still Held.

By the confession of immoral conduct, Robert Givens, colored, once a preacher, attempted to prove an alibi, in order to save himself from being convicted for house breaking, but all his efforts proved futile and he was held over to the grand jury under a $500 bond.

Givens is a negro of ordinary build with a very sanctified look. He was arraigned this morning before Police Judge Sanders charged with breaking into the Leight Fruit & Storage warehouse, tapping several barrels of whisky, taking away books, papers, matches and other articles, all of which he denied in the strongest appeals to the court to recognize the truth of the "minister of the gospel."

After Judge Sanders had heard the evidence he gave Givens a good lecture and held him over. "You say you are a preacher and have for fourteen years been in the employ of the Leigh Co., yet you are clearly convicted of house breaking," the judge declared. "You say you were not in the building but that you slept that night with a colored woman, who you bring here to prove you did. You are guilty right here of breaking one of the strongest of the ten commandments,—and to think, you are a preacher, too!"

Givens had remained silent until this last remark and when the judge had concluded, admitted his guilt of immoral conduct, but said "the Lord would forgive him," and he "looked to no judge to do so."

Overton Ball and Will Critser, the Henderson boys arrested with jewelry, a mask and sling shot, day before yesterday, were ordered held in custody until the police can get a letter from the Henderson authorities.

Ball explained this morning to a reporter that he got the jewelry from his grandmother and that he and Critser were simply going to take a little trip away from home. Critser, who had the mask, said he made it at Henderson some time ago and masqueraded in it. They failed to explain about the sling shot.

Ball said the two had been away from Henderson since the 29th of last month roaming about the state. They seem to be nervous.

Those who thought this was the hottest day of the year were not mistaken. The mercury went to 99, according to Observer Bornemann, which is the highest yet reached this season. It has been 98 a time or two, but 99 is the highest yet for the season, and it has come unusually late, as usually the hottest weather comes sooner.

Family of Rats End Life Together.

In the yard of a local residence, a pathetic sight was seen the other morning. Near the water faucet was a family of dead rats. They had eaten Stearns' Electric Rat and Roach Paste and rushed out of the house to the nearest point where there was water, and gave up life together. Stearns' Electric Rat and Roach Paste is sure death. It is easy to use and absolutely guaranteed to kill cockroaches, water bugs, rats, mice, etc., driving them out of the house to die. Dealer generally will be sent, express prepaid on receipt of price by the Stearns' Electric Paste Co., Tribune Building, Chicago, Ill. Small size, 25c; Hotel size, eight times the quantity, $1.00.

Englert & BryantA FEW POINTS ABOUT PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

No other man ever rose from police commissioner to president of the United States in less than five years. No other so vigorously and so successfully turned stumbling blocks into stepping stones. Theodore Roosevelt entered politics as a reformer as soon as he had left college, and made a reputation at the very start for public spirit, honesty, combativeness and unshakable physical courage. He made enemies at every step, and every enemy made him ten friends. The boy assemblyman forced a hostile legislature to condemn its own political allies. The young civil service commissioner boldly challenged the national leaders of his party and compelled them to observe the law. The police commissioner trampled ruthlessly over all the prejudices of a cosmopolitan community, whether they represented the vicious instincts of a criminal faction or the innocent desires of the liberty-loving majority. The assistant secretary of the navy thrust a rude hand into the coils of red tape that swathed the department and cleared the way for the commanders that smashed the fleets of Spain. The governor of New York accepted the hostility of the public-service corporation by signing the Ford franchise bill. The president of the United States challenged Wall street by forcing a settlement of the anthracite strike and ordering the dissolution of the Northern Securities merger. He sacrificed his popularity in the south rather than "shut the door of hope" in the face of the negro. He secured the partial fulfillment of our pledge of Cuban reciprocity. He ended the half-century period of talk about the Panama canal, and brought on a period of action. He insisted on probing the frauds of the postal service in the face of the anger of his party leaders.

IN SEPTEMBER

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCES WILL BE HELD NEAR HERE.

The Young Mens' Christian Association of the Cairo district, which embraces the southern part of the state, has arranged for a number of conferences in September.

The first will be held at Metropolis on September 1. The Cairo association will have charge of the meeting, and will be assisted by the Y. M. C. A. of Paducah. Services will be held in the various churches in the morning, a men's meeting will be held in the afternoon and at night a general meeting will be held.

On September 16, the Monks Y. M. C. A. will celebrate its first anniversary. This will attract a number of the railroad secretaries from all over the state as well as some of the railroad officials.

The meeting at Carbondale on September 18, will be the largest of the three gatherings. Thirteen secretaries will be in attendance.

Moran of the Lady Letty

By
FRANK NORRIS.
Author of "The Octopus," "The Pit," Etc.
Copyright, 1898, by
S. S. McClure Company

And then, like the rolling up of a scroll, the squall passed, the sun returned; the sky burned back to blue, the ruggedness was smoothed from the ocean, and the warmth of the tropics closed around the Bertha Millner, once more rolling easily on the swell of the ocean.

Of the Lady Letty and the drunken beachcombing captain not a trace remained. Kitchell had gone down with his prize. The Bertha Millner's Chinese crew huddled forward, talking wildly, pointing and looking in a bewildered fashion over the sides.

Wilbur and Moran were left alone on the open Pacific.

CHAPTER V.

WHEN Wilbur came on deck the morning after the sinking of the bark he was surprised to find the schooner under way again. Wilbur and Charlie had berthed forward during that night, Charlie with the hands. Wilbur in the captain's hammock. The reason for this change of quarters had been found in a peremptory order from Moran during the dog watch the preceding evening.

She had looked squarely at Wilbur from under her scowl and had said briefly and in a fine contralto voice that he had for the first time noted: "I berth aft in the cabin; you and the Chinaman forward. Understand?"

Moran had only forestalled Wilbur's intention, while after her almost miraculous piece of seamanship in the rescue of the schooner Charlie and the Chinese crew accorded her a respect that was almost superstitious.

Wilbur met her again at breakfast. She was still wearing men's clothing—part of Kitchell's outfit—and was booted to the knee, but now she wore no hat, and her enormous mane of rye colored hair was braided into long strands near to the thickness of a man's arm. The redness of her face gave a startling effect to her pale blue eyes and sandy, heavy eyebrows that easily lowered to a frown. She ate with her knife, and after pushing away her plate Wilbur observed that she drank half a tumbler of whisky and water.

The conversation between the two was tame enough. There was no common ground upon which they could meet. To her father's death—no doubt an old matter even before her rescue—she made no allusion. Her attitude toward Wilbur was one of defiance and suspicion. Only once did she relax.

"How did you come to be aboard here with these rat eaters? You're no sailor," she said abruptly.

"Huh!" laughed Wilbur mirthlessly. "Huh! I was shanghaied."

Moran snote the table with a red fist and shouted with sonorous, bell-toned laughter:

"Shanghaied—you? Now, that is really good! And what are you going to do now?"

"What are you going to do?"

"Signal the first home bound vessel and be taken into Frisco. I've my insurance to collect (Wilbur had given her the Letty's papers) and the disaster to report."

"Well, I'm not keen on shark hunting myself," said Wilbur. But Moran showed no interest in his plans.

However, they soon found that they were not to be permitted to signal. At noon the same day the schooner sighted a steamship's smoke on the horizon and began to raise her rapidly. Moran immediately bound on the ensign, unloosed down, and broke it out at the peak.

Charlie, who was at the wheel, spoke a sentence in Chinese, and one of the hands drew his knife across the hal-yards and brought the distress signal to the deck. Moran turned upon Charlie with an oath, her brows knotted,

"No, no!" sang Charlie, closing his eyes and wagging his head. "No! Too much los' time; no can stop. You come down side cabin; you an' one plece boss No. 2 (this was Wilbur have um chin-chin.)"

The odd conclave assembled about Kitchell's table—the clubman, the half masculine girl in men's clothes and the Chinaman. The conference was an angry one, Wilbur and Moran insisting that they be put aboard the steamship, Charlie refusing with calm obstinacy.

"I have um chin-chin with China boys las' night." China boy heap fad no can stop um steamship; heap fad too much talkie-takee; no stop; go fish now; go fish chop-chop; los' heat time; go fish. I no savvy sail um boat; China boy no savvy sail um boat. I tinkum you savvy (and he pointed to Moran). I tinkum you savvy plenty heap much disa bay. Boss No. 2 no savvy sail um boat, but him savvy plenty many all same."

"And we're to stop on board your dough dish and navigate her for you?" shouted Moran, her face blazing.

Charlie nodded blandly. "I tinkum yass."

"And when we get back to port," exclaimed Wilbur, "you think perhaps I won't make it interesting for you?"

Charlie smiled.

"I tinkum ship company heap rich."

"Well, get along," ordered Moran, as though the schooner was her property, "and we'll talk it over."

"Chiga boy like you heap pretty big," said Charlie to Moran as he went out.

You savvy sail um boat all light; wanna you fo' captain. But," he added, suddenly dropping his bland passivity as though it were a mask and for an instant allowing the wicked malevolent Cantonese to come to the surface, "China boy no likee funnee business. Savvy?" Then, with the smile of a Tallyrand, he disappeared.

Moran and Wilbur were helpless for the present. They were but two against seven Chinamen. They must stay on board if the coolies wished it, and if they were to stay it was a matter of their own personal safety that the Bertha Millner should be properly navigated.

"I'll captain her," concluded Moran sullenly at the end of their talk. "You must act as mate, Mr. Wilbur. And don't get any mistaken idea into your head that because I'm a young girl and alone you are going to run things your way. I don't like funny business any better than Charlie."

"Look here," said Wilbur, complaining, "don't think I'm altogether a villain. I think you're a rippling fine girl. You're different from any kind of girl I ever met, of course, but you, by Jingo, you're—you're splendid!" There in the scull last evening, when you stood at the wheel, with your hair!"

"Oh, drop that," said the girl contemptuously, and went up on deck. Wilbur followed, scratching his ear.

Charlie was called aft and the chronometer announced. Moran would navigate the Bertha Millner, Wilbur and she taking the watches. Charlie promised that he would answer for the obedience of the men.

Their first concern now was to shape their course for Magdalena bay. Moran and Wilbur looked over Kitchell's charts and logbook, but the girl flung them aside disdainfully.

"He's been sailing by the dead reckoning, and his navigation is driven. Why, a cabin boy would know better, and, to end with, the chronometer is run down. I'll have to get Greenwich time by taking the altitude of a star tonight and figure out our longitude. Did you bring off our sextant?"

Wilbur shook his head. "Only the paper," he said.

"There's only an old ebony quadrant here," said Moran, "but it will have to do."

That night, lying flat on her back on the deck, with the quadrant to her eye, she "got a star and brought it down to the horizon" and sat up under the reeking lamp in the cabin nearly till she had filled up the four sides of the log slate with her calculations. However, by daylight she had obtained the correct Greenwich time and worked the schooner's longitude.

Two days passed, then a third. Moran set the schooner's course. She kept almost entirely to herself, and when not at the wheel or taking the sun or writing up the log gloomed over the after rail into the schooner's wake. Wilbur knew not what to think of her. Never in his life had he met with any girl like this. So accustomed had she been to the rough give and take, direct associations of a seafaring life, that she misinterpreted well meant politeness, the only respect he knew how to pay her, to mean insidious advances. She was suspicious of him, distrusted him utterly and openly ridiculed his abortive seamanship. Pretty she was not, but she soon began to have a certain amount of attraction for Wilbur. He liked her splendid ropes of hair, her heavy contralto voice, her fine animal strength of bone and muscle admittedly greater than his own. He admired her indomitable courage and self reliance, while her positive genius in the matters of seamanship and navigation filled him with speechless wonder. The girls he had been used to were clever only in their knowledge of the amenities of an afternoon call or the formalities of a par-

The Weakness Of an Amazon

[Copyright, 1904, by K. M. Whitehead.]
"Would you object to telling me your reason for wanting to marry me?" she asked in an aggressive tone that quavered into pathos.

Such an unexpected answer caused Barnard to rise from his chair some two or three inches before he remembered that it is the unexpected that always happens. He sat down carefully, having achieved a calm that implied that hers was the generally recognized method of answering a proposal.

"Why—er—for the same reason that other men have asked you to marry them, I suppose—because I care more for that than for any one else."

"The others," she said slowly, "have had various motives. There haven't been so very many," she added, as if constrained to be honest.

"I have known you so short a time I could not be aware of that. I should never have believed it without your assurance."

The hardness of her face relaxed slightly. "You are the fourth," she said shortly.

"Will you tell me why the other three failed?" softly.

She leaned back in her easy chair and grasped its arms with a nervous, awkward movement. Barnard noticed the strong, white hands, larger than his by far.

"Do men ever love a woman that weighs 195 pounds?" she asked bitterly. "I have known one man that accomplished the fest!" He smiled in her eyes encouragingly.

"One couldn't feel an inclination to hold a hand of that size. It's uncomfortable to hold a 6½ glove." She held the offending member before him as if she could cheerfully have amputated the left one and have overtaken the right with a similar fate before they communicated to each other any knowledge of their various doings.

"The man I mentioned feels a troublesome inclination to hold that very hand," he laughed.

"You are old enough to have acquired better taste," she retorted censoriously. "How old are you, by the way?"

"Born exactly forty-nine years and three months ago."

"I don't object to that," leniently. "It makes me feel somewhat better, I think. A woman of thirty-five looks like young even by comparison."

"I'm sure I'll never object to comparisons in our family. If it pleases you we'll turn down Mr. Shakespeare's opinion concerning them."

"In all my thirty-five years"—she began.

"You seem proud to enumerate them. You might knock off five without any one suspecting," eying her with the air of an expert.

"Simple honesty shouldn't be caught embezzling," she smiled, with a sense of good comradeship. Her hands relaxed from their grip on the chair and fell more comfortably upon her lap.

" Didn't the other three think it would be rather nice?" He looked meaningfully at the hand nearest him.

"I don't think anybody ever wanted to," she answered simply. "I look too much like the sturdy oak and have received none of the tenderness that falls to the lot of clinging vines. Of course there are storms from which the oak might like to be sheltered. I don't like my masculine manner—I hate it," vehemently—but it gives a better effect than if I tried to be kittenish. A hundred and ninety-five pound kitten would run such a serious risk of being mistaken for a giddy elephant."

"Precisely," he agreed.

"But even a feminine elephant might long to be admired occasionally and—loved."

" Didn't the other three ever?" He gently stroked the firm, white hand.

"They didn't want to," she blushed furiously.

"But why, then?" he commenced.

"Oh, one of them was a widow and it was so expensive having all the sewing done out for four children."

He frowned sympathetically.

"The second wanted a partner to help run a boarding school."

He nodded.

"The third was a preacher and thought it was not good for man to live alone. He didn't seem to think dyspeptic tendencies and an insufficient income obstacles to prevent his finding a companion with all ease. In fact, his manner was full of assurance that I would jump at the chance. None of them, nobody in all my life, ever really cared for me. They only wanted me to help them do something."

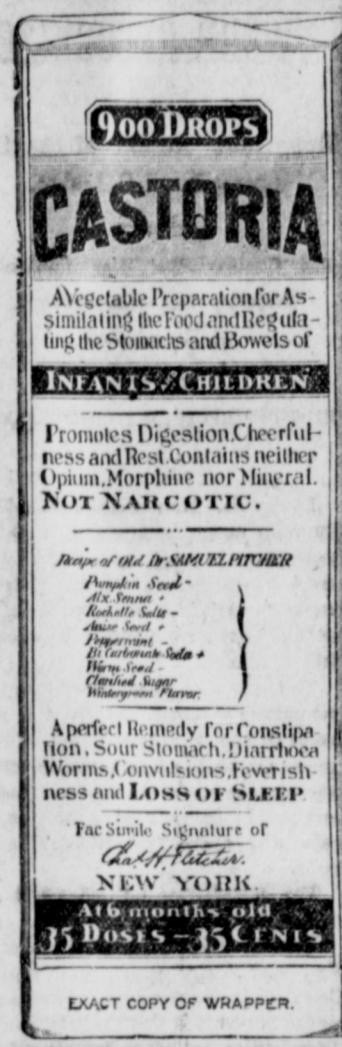

Her eyes were full of tears. "I would like some one to love me as they do the pretty little woman. I am just as affectionate and tender hearted as if I were little and dainty" —her lip quivered—"and—I want to be loved—and to be like them." She covered her face with her hands.

He sat down on the arm of the easy chair with an air that was joyous and youthful.

"Dear little woman," he said, ignoring the fact that the shoulders shaken by sobs were broad as his own, "the other three needed killing. I would love to slay them for you one by one, but unfortunately there is a law against it. I will content myself rejoicing that their lack of appreciation left a chance for the fourth one." He smoothed the hair gently from her forehead. "The fourth man loves you," he said, with a simplicity of words strong in feeling.

She slowly raised her head and looked in his face. In her eyes was shining the same expression that men have often seen in the eyes of those more favored women she envied. The amazon sank into insignificance; the woman came into her own triumphantly. "Sweetheart!" he said.

Sunday School Convention at Henderson.

A Mayfield Girl Dies From Blood Poisoning—New Asylum Doctor.

A WHISKEY BARREL EXPLODES

Henderson, Ky., August 25.—The thirty-ninth annual State Sunday School Convention is in session here in St. Paul's Episcopal church with about seven hundred delegates.

WHISKEY BARREL EXPLODES.

Bowling Green, Ky., August 25.—As a result of an explosion of a whiskey barrel at the home of Jack Edley, near this city, his little four-year-old son is lying in a very critical condition with part of his left arm almost torn off and suffering from other injuries, both external and internal. Mr. Edley was engaged in cleaning a whiskey barrel preparatory to using it to hold wine. He used a chemical in the process of cleaning the barrel, which caused the explosion.

KILLED IN ST. LOUIS.

Henderson, Ky., August 25.—Stanford Cosby, a former resident of Zion, but recently time keeper for a night force in the railroad yards in St. Louis, was caught between two freight cars in that city and crushed to death. His remains were brought to this city and buried. He leaves a wife and three children.

DEATH FROM A SCRATCH.

Mayfield, Ky., August 25.—Miss Neva Cooley, one of the most popular young ladies of the county, died, aged 17, of blood poisoning. Her fatal malady resulted from a scratch on the face.

ALLEGED MURDERER CAUGHT

Wincheser, Ky., August 25.—Eli Cary, colored, who is said to have murdered Nannie Thomas about six weeks ago and escaped, has been apprehended at Middleboro and will be brought here and lodged in jail today.

KILLED BY FREIGHT.

Henderson, Ky., August 25.—Leslie King and Tom Woods, aged 16 and 20 years, were found ground to pieces on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad tracks a mile south of here. They were from Sebree, and had been to St. Louis. They are supposed to have been stealing a ride on a freight.

NEW ASYLUM PHYSICIAN.

Frankfort, Ky., August 25.—Governor Beckham has announced the appointment of Dr. J. M. Ferguson, of Muhlenburg county, as second assistant physician at Western Asylum at Hopkinsville. He succeeds Dr. J. W. Stephens, who was transferred to the Lakeland asylum.

FELL FROM BUNK

BOY IN LOCKUP WAS PAINFULLY HURT LAST NIGHT.

Will Critser, one of the Henderson boys in the city lockup here on suspicion of being criminals wanted somewhere, fell off his bunk in the city jail last night and injured his head.

It seems Critser is not a very quiet sleeper and rolls about in bed. He rolled off the side of his bunk and the cement floor did not provide a very soft lighting place. The skin was broken and Critser was wearing a bandage around his head in court this morning. The injury is not serious, however.

THE OYSTER.

London Professor Tells Minister of Marine That Bivalve Doesn't Communicate Typhoid Fever.

London—Prof. Giard of the faculty of sciences in a report sent to the minister of marine has just whitewashed the oyster, which has been given a bad name two winters ago. He says that, first of all, none of the maladies of the bivalve is catching for man. Finally, the professor asserts that it is a question whether any authentic cases of typhoid can be traced to the oyster, and that at all events such cases are so rare as to be negligible.

NAILED UP

Mr. Dick Calissi Adopts Novel Way of Keeping Tenant Out.

"Three Fingers Jack" Had Possession But Was Caught Napping and Locked Out.

Colonel Dick Calissi last night stole a march on Jack Whitesides better known as "Three Fingers Jack." Up in Mechanicsburg Mr. Calissi rented a house a short time ago and was to back Whitesides in a saloon. A controversy arose over the license after everything was ready for business, and the place had to close.

Since then Whitesides had remained in the building, making it his home. Mr. Calissi claims he rented the house and that he wanted Whitesides out, but Whitesides refused to go.

Last night Mr. Calissi ascertained that Whitesides was up town, and going to the building had every door and window nailed up and a new lock put on, and left word for "Three Fingers Jack" that if he broke in he would be arrested for house breaking.

Whitesides asked the police about it and was told if Mr. Calissi rented the building he had better consult a lawyer before breaking in.

Whitesides later broke into the house and was this afternoon arrested for disorderly conduct.

HATCHED THE EGGS.

Put Them in Pocket and Forgot All About Them.

A story comes out of Cache bottoms that would do credit to a delirium tremens man. It seems that Ed Folens, who lives in Cache near the J.C. crossing, found a nest of snake eggs and preparing a nice little surprise for his family, put them in his pocket and wended his way homeward. Arriving home he forgot all about the eggs and went to bed, leaving them in his trousers' pocket. The next morning when Ed got inside his "pants" and reached in the pocket where his plug ought to be, it is reported something stirred all over the neighborhood. Ed resurrected from his pocket an assched chew of snake and proceeded to jump out from under it in forty foot hikes. The last seen of Mr. Folens he was bound northward at a gait that would bring him back home the other way round in about an hour.—Pulaski Enterprise.

Why, of Course!

Bill—And you say you get $4 for eight hours' work?

Jill—That's what I get.

"Why, I often have to work eight days for $4."

"You do? What business are you in?"

"I'm a bill collector."—Yonkers Statesman.

For Eternity.

Barlow—Crandish does not believe in eternity. He says when a man marries it is for eternity.

Hillox—Yes; I suppose it does seem like eternity in Crandish's case. I've heard something about Mrs. C.—Boston Transcript.

Familiar Name.

The Fox—You are living in town now, I see.

The Bear—No, not me. You must be mistaken.

RATHBONE SISTERS WERE RECOGNIZED

Important Action of the Supreme K. of P. Lodge.

The Contest Was Very Spirited—Majority Was Ten In Favor of Recognition.

THE LOUISVILLE DEFICIT $5,000

Louisville, Ky., August 25.—The Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias yesterday afternoon by a majority of ten voted to sustain the committee's report favoring the official recognition of the Rathbone Sisters. The contest was spirited.

The body also voted to sustain the committee's report, which was adverse to the recommendation of Supreme Chancellor Bangs, who favored a reorganization of the Uniform Rank, and that it be declared a body separate and apart from the supreme body.

The installation of officers then took place.

John H. Alexander, of Leesburg, Va., and Tully Scott, of Cripple Creek, Col., were appointed to places on the Supreme Tribunal of the order. They will be in office for six years.

The other member of this body, the powers of which are purely of an appellate nature, is the Chief Tribune, J. F. Hilscher, of St. Paul, Minn., who will remain in office for two years.

Notwithstanding the refusal of the finance committee of the general council to recommend the passage of an ordinance appropriating $5,000 to help pay the deficit resulting from the recent encampment of the Knights of Pythias, the executive committee of the Biennial Association may go before the council and ask that body to act upon their request, as they face a deficit of nearly $5,000 as a result of the recent encampment.

YOUNG GIRL HANGED.

Daughter of Messejensky Confessed to Sending Anti-Military Literature to Troops.

Vienna.—The beautiful young daughter of the famous Messejensky was hanged secretly last week in a Russian fortress because she instigated the soldiers to desert. The news has just leaked out.

She was employed with other ladies of the Russian aristocracy in the Winter Palace, under the direction of the dowager czarina, to prepare bandages and gauze for the wounded soldiers.

She also had charge of the packing and forwarding of literature to the far East, and she inclosed in every package copies of anti-military pamphlets.

ON TO CALIFORNIA.

Personally conducted tour of Colorado, Utah and California in special pullman sleeper has been arranged by Dr. C. E. Whitesides, Paducah, Ky., for Paducah and vicinity, Knights Templar, and friends to the Conclave, San Francisco.

Charlevoix, Mich.—During the presentation of a popular comedy the other evening a number of young people from the Chicago club resort and Belvedere caused a disturbance and bothered the actors by throwing peanuts and vegetables in to the stage and otherwise acting unruly. A big cabbage landed in front of the star as he pointed at the young blood who threw it and shouted: "I know you. Your father was a cooper. You were the last barrel he made and he forgot to put a head on you." The disturbers left amid hoots and jeers.
